Avatar Special Rules — Devi

DUALITY TOKENS

Some Effects related to Devi assign a Duality Token to the target Mage.

Duality Tokens follow these rules:

- Assignment: When a Mage is assigned a Duality Token they place it on their Mage Sheet. A Mage can have a maximum of two Duality Tokens assigned. A Duality Token assigned to a Mage is considered to be in the Lodge and counts as being in the same Room as the Mage. When a Mage is defeated, they discard all the Duality Tokens they have. When a Duality Token is discarded, it immediately returns to the shared pool.
- Actions: a Mage who is assigned two Duality Tokens can use the Physical Actions Punishment and Absolution (see box).

Punishment (Physical Action,)

- Move 1. You can perform this Effect a number of times equal to your Speed value . Each individual Move, separated by a dot (.), is considered a separate Effect; you can use all or some of these Move Effects, but you cannot perform Effects other than Moves between them. Unused Moves are lost.
- Perform a Physical Attack () on a 0 (a Physical Attack inflicts Damage on the target equal to the Strength value of your Mage).
- Convert 1 on a 0.

Absolution (Physical Action,)

- Move 1. You can perform this Effect a number of times equal to your Speed value . Each individual Move, separated by a dot (.), is considered a separate Effect; you can use all or some of these Move Effects, but you cannot perform Effects other than Moves between them. Unused Moves are lost.
- Place 1 in a ⟨0⟩.
- Convert 1 in a ⟨0⟩.
